PEER EVALUATION OF INSTRUCTION
ART DEPARTMENT
California State University Los Angeles

Faculty member under evaluation: Joe Bautista
Course Number, Title, and Date: Art 180, Intro to Computer Graphics
8:00am – 10:30am, November 20, 2008

Faculty Evaluator: Professor Mika Cho

1. Overview of Syllabus and Course Materials:

The syllabus (Art 180) is posted on the web - presents outstanding organization and course materials strongly supports acquisition of subject matter competency.
(http://www.mindisplay.com/csula_art180/syllabus.html)

2. Description of Course (Lecture, Activity, Lab, Etc.)

The course assists students to learn and have a general understanding of computer graphics software used as tools to execute visual communication. The instruction deals with both technical and creative aspects of the three primary Adobe graphic applications: Illustrator, Photoshop, and In Design, and covers the Mac operating system, basic design principles and design theories.

The class consists of lectures, in-class tutorials and exercises as well as projects that relate to what they have learned. Four different projects must be completed in this quarter, which are created with applying the materials covered in the course (but not limited): vector and raster imagery, screen vs. printing resolution, photo manipulation, font usage, layout, integration of software, color reproduction, and saving and managing files. Students are expected to have a solid understanding of software and be prepared for more advanced design courses.

3. Teaching Strategies (group work, discussions, demonstrations, media Presentations - slides, video, digital, critiques, etc.)

Mr. Bautista's Practices various teaching strategies and methodologies; lecturing with media presentations, providing demonstrations and assisting students in-group and individual, facilitating discussions and project critiques.

4. Teaching Effectiveness (accuracy and currency of information, rapport with students, professionalism, student responsiveness, interaction and student feedback)

Observation and Evaluation: 22 students were ready to do a critique on their 3rd project (10 x 16 inches, Poster Design using all three applications, in-design, Photoshop, and Illustrator). The works were all mounted on boards; the concept and execution of the project were shared, questioned and discussed; students responded constructively to each other's work; and the feedbacks by Mr. Bautista were critical but supportive. Mr. Bautista led the students professionally with valuable information and encouragement.

5. Additional Comments

Mr. Bautista is currently pursuing his MA degree in Graphic Design at Cal. State LA. He is an accomplished graphic designer working on various projects in the professional field since 2000, and has been teaching in Art department at Cal. State Northridge since 2004. He is the president of SAGA (Student Advertising Graphics Association) and an active member of AIGA (American Institute of Graphic Arts).

6. Summary Evaluation

This course as well as its syllabus is superbly organized and taught with the established goals of the course and expected learning and teaching outcome. Students' outstanding projects and the critique I observed this time truly reflect his effective teaching methodology. I found this course to be absolutely valuable. The instructor, Mr. Bautista, presents the information in a clear and logical manner who is well prepared and more than qualified for this course.
